Meet college students, retirees and professionals of color with a desire to give back to nature and an interest in the environment.

Complete this short form to reserve your table at the fair. Employer participation is FREE. The return of this form will reserve a shared booth/table for your organization’s information display. You’ll be able to discuss immediate, short-term and long-term opportunities with attendees and hold mini-interviews.

Descriptions and information provided below will be used to help promote the event to candidates and may be posted on the Audubon Naturalist Society (ANS) web page.

Please send completed forms to Shanita Brown at sbrown@allianceforthebay.org with the subject Green Jobs Fair Employer Form.

Contact Name: ________________________________

Contact Phone: ______________________________________

Contact Email: ______________________________________

Organization Name: ______________________________________

Please describe your organization. ______________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

____________________________________________________________________

How many opportunities are open now with your organization? ________________________________
Are these paid positions? □ Yes □ No

How many volunteer/non-paid positions do you have open now? ____________________________________________

Interested in sponsoring the Green Jobs Fair? □ Yes □ No

The Taking Nature Black Green Jobs Fair will attract young professionals, students and vibrant retirees. The goal of the fair is to showcase government, non-profit and private sector paid employment, and volunteer opportunities in the environmental field to diverse candidates.

Taking Nature Black Green Jobs Fair sponsors will receive their own exhibit booth/table at the fair; recognition on all event-related marketing and promotional collateral; listing on all on-site signage, and in event program; and recognition on ANS website, and social media outreach.

For more on sponsorship, contact ANS Development Manager Antoinette Sooh at Antoinette.Sooh@anshome.org.